DEDICATION

Mrs. Jeannette B. Yates

To Mrs. Jeannette Beazley Yates, librarian and teacher of mathematics at Charles City High School from 1925 to 1957, we lovingly dedicate this volume of the Charles Citian.

Mrs. Yates founded, and throughout her career here, nurtured the growth of our present excellent library.

Mrs. Yates also unfailingly, and often in her "leisure" time, managed to give us the individual coaching and counseling which we needed to send us smiling on our way.

CLASS HISTORY

To The Class of 1965

Class of 1965, are you already wondering what high school is like? Do you stand on tiptoe and try to peer into the unfolding of events for the next five years?

Perhaps you would like for us, the Class of 1960, to share with you the cream of the experiences we have had as we traveled the road which you soon must take. That you may proceed without fear, however, we tell you first, that, for us, high school has been filled with wonderful, exciting and deeply worthwhile activities.

In June of 1955, eleven of us reached our first plateau when, as a group, we received our seventh grade diplomas. Needless to say, we felt pretty important, but what we needed to cut us down to size - the upperclassmen had!

As we began high school, so began the career of Mr. Macey White as our vocational agriculture teacher. Mr. Dale Smith (known to us as D-square) was our homeroom teacher. In the spring of the school year another instructor, Mr. Charles Alexander, joined the high school staff and did wonders for our faulty use of the English language.

As freshmen, many important things happened and we, like to an awakening giant, began to move. We were put on athletic teams, elected officers in clubs, or placed on committees to do the various jobs around school. We were made stronger by the addition of two new students, Randy Banks and Tom Eanes, and a new science teacher, Mrs. Anne Mountcastle.

In the fall of 1956, we experienced a great loss in the passing of Mr. Alexander as the result of an automobile accident. Again, we were in need of an English teacher, and in the early part of 1957, Miss Annie Banton joined us and we were once more headed in the right direction. That spring, we, along with the rest of the high school, "invaded" Washington. Mrs. Richardson and Mr. and Mrs. White acted as our "generals" as we captured Washington and confiscated many happy memories to bring back home.

With Miss Banton as our homeroom teacher, and a new principal, Mr. Junny Smith, we set off to conquer our sophomore year. Now, we were even more active in sports and clubs than before, and we had begun to feel the speed with which graduation was approaching. We were fortunate to have Mrs. Ann Tyler as our new math teacher. In February, Miss Banton changed her name to Black but stayed on with us. With the freshmen, we spent our class trip at Yorktown and believe it or not, it became an educational excursion.

In September of 1958, we entered Mrs. Richardson's homeroom, and how the time seemed to fly! Two months later when we received our class rings, we could actually envision ourselves in caps and gowns. Events were plentiful, and we discovered that things in life worth having, are worth working for. By this time, almost everyone was playing varsity "something" and serving as officers in some clubs. Also, we were beginning to get ready for our senior year and to plan our CHARLES CITIAN.

May found us planning and then executing a full scale class invasion of Washington. This time, we hit a lot of the high spots we had missed as freshmen, and saw a good cross-section of Washington's weekend life.

September 1959 found us again in Mrs. Richardson's homeroom, but this time as seniors. Some of us began to count the days, and others rushed around getting off college applications. We had two new teachers, Mr. Johnny Parker and Mr. Robert Leonard, with whom to get acquainted. We had for the first time in the history of the 37-year old school, a complete cafeteria, a chemistry laboratory, and a football team (which was undefeated). Under the wise counsel of Mrs. Richardson, we waded through rivers of tests - of national, state and school origin.

As we approach the second and final plateau in Charles City High School, we look back with fond memories, but also we look forward eagerly to that which lies ahead.

Class of '65, these happenings along with our class motto: "Whatever the job, large or small, we do it well, or not at all. '60 or Bust!" have, we hope, given you that peep, which you so desire, into the future.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

We, the Senior Class of 1960, of Charles City High School, being of sound minds and bodies, realizing that our days as high school students are numbered, do hereby declare this our Last Will and Testament:

ARTICLE I

To our Parents, we do bequeath our humble thanks and appreciation for making possible the fulfillment of our first important goal.

ARTICLE II

To our school, we do bequeath our thanks for the many wonderful memories which we shall have to keep Charles City High ever-present in our hearts.

ARTICLE III

To our teachers, we do bequeath our heartfelt thanks and appreciation for the time devoted to us in guidance and in teaching. We also leave to you, peace of mind.

ARTICLE IV

To the class of 1961, we do bequeath the best of luck and success in your final stride of high school education.

ARTICLE V

To the lower classmen, we do bequeath the dubious honor of looking forward to the day when you may reach the ultimate goal of becoming seniors.

ARTICLE VI

I, SHIRLEY ADAMS, do will and bequeath my ability to obtain, for three consecutive years, the right front fender on the convertible in the Tobacco Festival Parade to Patsy Allanson.

I, RANDY BANKS, do will and bequeath Betsy Smith to Tommy Banks.

I, TOM EANES, do will and bequeath my study habits to Jimmy Richardson.

I, MARY FENTON, do will and bequeath my ability to have a new boyfriend every week to Ann Adams.

I, TRAVIS HARWOOD, do will and bequeath my ability to catch fish to Tommy Fenton.

I, MARVIN HULA, do will and bequeath a little bit of my growth to Linwood Minter.

I, HARTWELL MAJOR, do will and bequeath my belt to the windowshade from which I borrowed it.

I, REUBIN PAYNE, will and bequeath my way with girls to Pete Harwood.

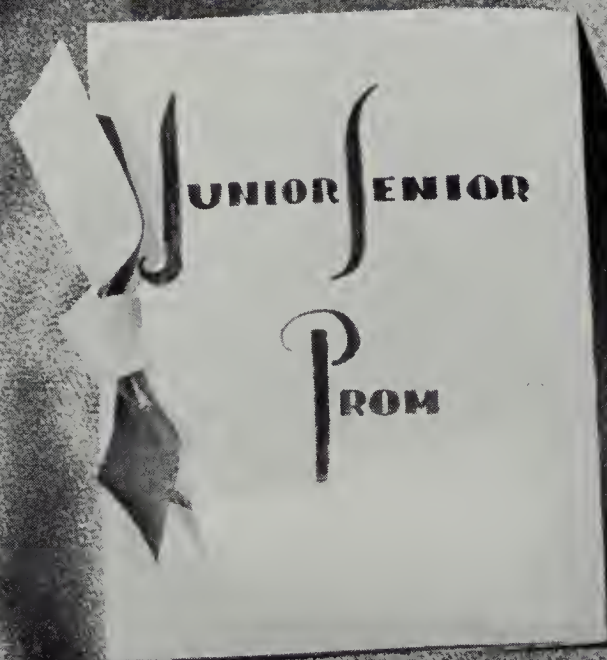

I, PAUL VENUS, do will and bequeath my reserve seat in the office to Douglas Harwood.

I, PHYLLIS WAITMAN, do will and bequeath my musical ability to Kenneth Osby.

I, GWEN WALDROP, do will and bequeath my "super-perfect" vision to Betty Gunderson.

I, ENGHABAU WIGGENS, do will and bequeath my twenty-two inch waistline to Mary Ellen Greene.

I, CAROL WIGGENS, do will and bequeath - on second thought I don't will and bequeath anything because I need all I've got and more too!

FOOTBALL TEAM

We, the Indians of Charles City High School, made our debut in football this season. Under the leadership of Coach Robert Leonard, we are able to organize, outfit, and field a good six-man team, even though we did not get to play many games. We started late in the season and after our first stomping victory, one opponent after another backed down and refused to play us. We were able to reach the top and post the "undefeated, untied" banner. This record we pass on to the coming football team with the sincere hope that they may carry on the tradition that we started.

VARSITY CHEERLEADERS

JUNIOR CHEERLEADERS

GIRLS' BASKETBALL TEAM

The girls' basketball team raced to set a record as they won eight of ten games to place Charles City High in second place in Group III, District "E" competition.

Under the supervision of Coaches Robert Leonard and Betty Moore, the girls found that extra "fight" spirit which led to their many wins.

BOYS' BASKETBALL TEAM

We had the good fortune this year to have Mr. John Parker to succeed our well loved and very capable coach of the last four years, Mr. Macy White. Under Coach Parker's eagle eye, we slowly molded into a thinking machine and began to battle with our numerous foes. We were able to win an additional three games over last year's record to enable us to grab fifth place in a tough field of ten Group III, District "E" teams.
